

2022 GENDER PAY GAP: INTRODUCTION

1. The Ted Wragg Multi-Academy Trust operates as an equal opportunities employer and does not discriminate in any way (as defined by the Equalities Act 2010 and other relevant legislation), regarding recruitment, performance management and employee development opportunities.
2. The Trust does not have any variation in pay between members of staff performing the same roles. However, the greater proportion of men in teaching roles, compared to support staff roles, creates what appears to be a gender gap when looking at the whole workforce.
3. You will see below that within the two different categories of staff employed within our Trust, the gender pay gap compares favourably to the national average of 14.9% (15.1% in 2021).

4. The Trust has reviewed the gender split of staff across roles within our organisation. The following chart shows the gender split when we order hourly rates of pay from highest to lowest and group into four equal quartiles. The results are interesting and reflect, as expected, the high percentage of female staff employed within the Trust, including within leadership roles.

- Overall 75% of staff are female (77%: 2019 to 2021). Pay is set in accordance with national statutory pay arrangements for teachers, and support staff are graded in accordance with the local authority grading scheme. Pleasingly, differentials in pay, within quartiles are minimal (as tabulated below).

HEADLINE GENDER PAY GAP FIGURES

- The gender pay gap is defined as the difference between the mean and median hourly rate of pay the male and female colleagues receive. The mean pay gap is the difference between average hourly earnings of men and women. The median pay gap is the difference between the mid points in the ranges of hourly earnings of men and women. It takes all salaries in the sample, lines them up in order from lowest to highest, and picks the middle-most salary. The figures below are based on hourly rates of pay as at 31 March 2022.
- The Ted Wragg Multi-Academy Trust does not pay bonuses to any staff; therefore, the further three statutory calculations of the mean bonus gender pay gap, the median bonus gender pay gap and the proportion of males and females receiving a bonus payment are not applicable.

STATUTORY DISCLOSURES

- The overall gender pay gap on 31 March 2022 was 35.0% (2021: 43.4%) on a median basis. The main reason for the pay gap is the relatively higher proportion of women in support roles.

HOW WE SUPPORT GENDER EQUALITY IN THE TRUST

9. The Trust continues to challenge the historical imbalance in the education sector, where a disproportionate number of lower paid support staff roles are occupied by female colleagues. We recognise that this may be a consequence of eg. having and caring for children which can change what is wanted from a job. The Trust is pleased that data demonstrates that there is equality of opportunity in progression for both genders in this organisation.
10. Whilst understanding that these issues face all companies and the education sector in particular, the Trust recognises its responsibilities and will continue to:
- ensure that all senior and middle leaders undertake recruitment training, including recognising and challenging unconscious gender bias.
  - continue to cultivate our family friendly culture, underpinned by our range of supporting guidance, advice and policies including Shared Parental Leave.
  - maintain our commitment to professional development to enable all employees to realise their full potential.
