Privacy Notice for Job Applicants

This privacy notice describes how we collect and use personal information about you during and after your work relationship with us, in accordance with the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR).

Following Brexit, Regulation (EU) 2016/679, General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) was incorporated into UK law as retained EU law and is now known as the UK GDPR. The UK GDPR operates alongside the Data Protection Act 2018, which supplements it by setting out additional provisions on matters such as processing in specific sectors, exemptions, the powers of the Information Commission and enforcement. The Data (Use and Access) Act 2025 further amends both the UK GDPR and Data Protection Act 2018 to modernise UK data protection rules and clarify certain rights and obligations. The GDPR continues to apply within the EU and to organisations that process personal data of individuals located in the EU.

This privacy notice applies to all job applicants. Successful candidates should refer to our Privacy Notice for Staff for information about how their personal data is collected, used and stored during employment.

How and Why We Use Your Information

We will only use your personal information when the law allows us to. Most commonly, we will use your information in the following circumstances:

- Where we need to take steps to enter into a contract with you;
- Where we need to comply with a legal obligation (such as health and safety legislation, under statutory codes of practice and employment protection legislation);
- Where it is needed in the public interest or for official purposes;
- Where it is necessary for our legitimate interests (or those of a third party) and your interests, rights and freedoms do not override those interests.
- Where you have provided your consent for us to process your personal data.

Generally, the purpose of us collecting your data is to enable us to facilitate safe recruitment and determine suitability for the role. We also collect data in order to carry out equal opportunities monitoring and to ensure appropriate access arrangements are put in place if required.

If you fail to provide certain information when requested, we may not be able to take the steps to enter into a contract with you, or we may be prevented from complying with our legal obligations.

We will only use your personal information for the purposes for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose.

How We Use Particularly Sensitive Information

Sensitive personal information (as defined under the UK GDPR as "special category data") require higher levels of protection and further justification for collecting, storing, and using this type of personal information. We may process this data in the following circumstances:

- In limited circumstances, with your explicit written consent;
- Where we need to carry out our legal obligations in line with our data protection policy;
- For reasons of substantial public interest, such as for equal opportunities monitoring;
- To establish, exercise or defend legal claims;
- Where it is necessary to protect your vital interests (or those of another person) and you are unable to give consent.

Criminal Convictions

We may only use information relating to criminal convictions where the law allows us to do so. This will usually be where it is necessary to carry out our legal obligations. We will only collect information about criminal convictions if it is appropriate given the nature of the role and where we are legally able to do so.

Where appropriate we will collect information about criminal convictions as part of the recruitment process or we may be notified of such information directly by you in the course of working for us.

Sharing Data

We may need to share your data with third parties, including third party service providers where required by law, where it is necessary to administer the working relationship with you or where we have another legitimate interest in doing so.

These include the following: -

- Academic or regulatory bodies to validate qualifications/experience (for example the teaching agency);
- Referees;
- Other schools;
- HR advisors and professional advisers;
- The DBS to carry out background checks where legally required;
- Recruitment and supply agencies;
- the relevant Local Authority or academy within the Trust in order to meet our legal obligations for sharing data with it;
- other schools or academies within the Trust.

We may also need to share some of the above categories of personal information with other parties, such as our legal or professional advisers. Where possible, information will be anonymised, but this may not always be feasible.

We also use third-party recruitment, applicant-tracking, online-search, communications and pre-employment checking services. These providers may process applicant personal data on our behalf where necessary to provide their services. Appropriate data protection and security arrangements are required.

All recipients are required to handle personal data securely and only for the purposes for which it was shared. We may also be required to share some personal information with our regulators or as required to comply with the law.

Retention Periods

We keep the personal data that we obtain about you during the recruitment process for no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which it is processed. How long we keep your data will depend on whether your application is successful and you become employed by us, the nature of the data concerned and the purposes for which it is processed.

We will keep recruitment data (including interview notes) for no longer than is reasonable, taking into account the limitation periods for potential claims such as race or sex discrimination (as extended to take account of early conciliation), after which they will be destroyed. If there is a clear business reason for keeping recruitment records for longer than the recruitment period, we may do so but will first consider whether the records can be pseudonymised or anonymised, and the longer period for which they will be kept.

If your application is successful, we will keep only the recruitment data that is necessary in relation to your employment.

Once recruitment for the role has concluded, we will store and securely destroy your information in accordance with our Data Retention Policy, available under Data Protection Policies on the Data Protection Page.

Security

We have put in place measures to protect the security of your information, including against it being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way. Access is limited to employees, agents, contractors and other third parties with a business need to know. Details of these measures are available under Data Protection Policies on the Data Protection Page.

Further details of our security procedures are available in the Data Breach Policy under Data Protection Policies on the Data Protection Page.

Automated Decision Making

Ted Wragg Multi Academy Trust does not make decisions about job applicants based solely on automated processing. All recruitment and selection decisions involve meaningful human review.

If this position changes in the future (for example, if we introduce automated screening or scoring tools) we will update this notice and provide you with information about the logic involved and your rights in relation to such processing.

Your Rights of Access, Correction, Erasure and Restriction

It is important that the personal information we hold about you is accurate and current. Please keep us informed if your personal information changes during your working relationship with us.

Under certain circumstances by law you have the right to:

- Access your personal information (commonly known as a “subject access request”). This allows you to receive a copy of the personal information we hold about you and to check we are lawfully processing it. You will not have to pay a fee to access your personal information. However, we may charge a reasonable fee if your request for access is clearly unfounded or excessive. Alternatively, we may refuse to comply with the request in such circumstances.
- Correction of the personal information we hold about you. This enables you to have any inaccurate information we hold about you corrected.

- Erasure of your personal information. You can ask us to delete or remove personal data if there is no good reason for us continuing to process it.
- Restriction of processing your personal information. You can ask us to suspend processing personal information about you in certain circumstances, for example, if you want us to establish its accuracy before processing it.
- To object to processing in certain circumstances (for example for direct marketing purposes).
- To transfer your personal information to another party.

If you want to exercise any of the above rights, please contact dataprotection@tedwraggtrust.co.uk in writing. We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access the information (or to exercise any of your other rights).

Right to Withdraw Consent

In the limited circumstances where you may have provided your consent to the collection, processing and transfer of your personal information for a specific purpose, you have the right to withdraw your consent for that specific processing at any time.

To withdraw your consent, please contact dataprotection@tedwraggtrust.co.uk. Once we receive notification that you have withdrawn consent, we will no longer process your information for the agreed purpose unless another lawful basis applies.
